Winds Lash at Garland, DeQueen

Texarkana, Sept. 14 —(P)—High winds, heavy rain and lightning caused damage in at least three south Arkansas communities this morning. No casualties were reported.

A hay barn belonging to Jess T. Smith, general store operator at Garland, 22 miles east of here, was damaged by a windstorm at 7 a. m. (CST), but no other buildings were damaged, Smith said.

Earlier, a twister was reported to have struck the little farm community on the Cotton Belt railroad at 9:17 a. m.

Greater damage occurred at DeQueen, 50 miles north of here, when winds, rain and lightning hit the main business and residential sections at 4:30 a. m.

Trees were bowled over, signs blown down and some roofs damaged by falling trees. Several streets were blocked by debris from power service was disrupted for several hours. Rainfall was estimated at 1.5 inches.

A bolt of lightning struck the police radio station in the city hall at Monticello, in southeast Arkansas.

Winds measuring 55 miles per hour howled through Texarkana this morning and an inch of rain fell in a one hour period, but no damage was reported.

Furthermore, should Dewey win in November, Republicans will control the state administration until 1954. That's important to their 1952 presidential ambitions, for they'd be sorely handicapped with the country's largest state in rival hands.

Quite evidently, too, control of the state GOP organization would give Dewey far more bargaining power for his liberal viewpoint at national Republican council tables than he'd have as a retired former party great.

Of course, the governor knew many of these things when he said on June 7 he was quitting for reasons of health. And it probably took more than pressure from his party to compel a change of mind. Plainly, the Korean war is the other big influence.

Announcing his re-entry, Dewey made much of Korea. He assailed Democrats in his own state and in Washington for not being aware of our national danger. He said we wouldn't survive without a strong and constructive opposition party to force correction of errors and incompetence in the national administration.

He would not be candidate today if he did not believe his own role in this corrective task is large. Whether such a role would give new play to his unquestionably still healthy presidential aspirations is naturally impossible to tell. But however that may be, there seems no need to doubt his sincerity in desiring national Republicanism to be a constructive force for the country.

Clothes Make The Man

It's now possible to report that American journalism is completely represented on the Korean war front. Women's Wear Daily, the official Bible of the garment trades, has dispatched a correspondent to the scene.

Possibly the fellow is just an advance man who will be followed, in good time, by eager clothing salesman. For anyone can see that the flour sacks the Koreans call everyday attire signify a great untapped market for soft goods.

So this may be the first move in a campaign to get the Koreans out of their sacks and into slacks.

Navy Reports 'Light' Damage to Vessels

Washington, Sept. 14 —(P)—Three United States destroyers suffered "superficial damage" in the naval bombardment of the Korean port of Inchon, the navy said today.

A spokesman said reports from naval headquarters in the Far East indicated that American casualties in the "light sea action off Korea were yellow."

The North Korean Communist radio had said that six American vessels, most of them destroyers, were sunk.

The navy said here it had no report of any troop landing type ship or craft being involved in the heaviest surface bombardment of the vital Inchon port area since the beginning of hostilities. This was in comment on Communist reports, as heard in Tokyo, indicating that an amphibious landing had been tried unsuccessfully.

The spokesman said that obviously the North Koreans had improved their shore defenses along the coast leading to Seoul, of which Inchon is the port.

Earlier in the campaign, he recalled, British and American destroyers reported exchanging fire with gun batteries ashore.

No previous bombardment of the west coast, however, has resulted in any damage to Allied ships.

The navy declined to speculate on the timing or reason for the bombardment of Inchon by cruisers and destroyers. The spokesman indicated, however, that the best way to find out what shore defenses the enemy has is to get in close. Shore batteries can easily be hidden or camouflaged to make detection from the air difficult.

Three Arkansas Brothers Aboard Destroyer

McCrory, Sept. 14 —(P)—The captain of a U. S. destroyer in the Pacific recently remarked that "if I had a couple more Thorntons on board, they could run this tin can themselves."

He was the skipper of the U. S. Knox, to which Wayne, Emmett and Hershel Thornton, brothers of McCrory, Ark., are assigned. The three are sons of Willard Thornton, employee of the Woodruff Electric cooperative here.

Manpower Program Is Shaping Up

Washington, Sept. 14 —(P)—A national manpower program began shaping up today as war plants were given top priority in hiring at the 1,800 federal-state employment offices.

The labor department, in a special labor market survey and in an address by its director of employment security, reported:

1. Expansion of the labor force can take care of President Truman's doubled goals — a $30,000,000,000 annual rate of defense spending and 3,000,000 men under arms.
2. But, if a call for full mobilization were to bring 12,500,000 men again under arms, strictly civilian industry would have to give up one-fourth of its labor supply. It would lose 6,600,000 workers.

The director of employment security, Robert C. Goodwin, in a speech prepared for a group of industrialists at Wayne university, Detroit, said that manpower "may again become a major problem."

He estimated that the country's total labor force — at home and in uniform — can be expanded to meet the needs of the next nine months and could be boosted by 5,600,000 in a war emergency. But he said manpower nevertheless will set the ultimate ceiling of war production.

The 5,600,000 figure does not include an estimated 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 who might be drawn from the ranks of the unemployed, because they are already counted in the labor force. The labor department said the 5,600,000 represents youths, retired labor workers and others who can be lured into jobs.

During the present partial mobilization, Goodwin said the labor department and the cooperating state employment offices have undertaken a manpower program with these key points:

1. Expanding the labor force by publicizing defense opportunities.

House Faces Crucial Vote on Tax Levy

Washington, Sept. 14 —(P)—The house faced a crucial vote today on whether a multi-billion-dollar excess profits levy on corporations will be shoved into the 4-508,000,000 general tax boosting bill.

No one could say for sure what the outcome would be, but some of the possibilities were:

1. Supporters of a super tax or big profits may fail to get it into the present tax bill but they may force a declaration by the house that congress should stay in session until it acts upon a separate bill for the same purpose.
2. If they succeed in getting the profits tax into the present bill, final action on the general tax measure might be delayed while the profits levy is being studied, with the result that the increased rates on individual incomes could not become effective Oct. 1 as planned.
3. In any event it appeared certain there will be an excess profits tax, later if not now. If enacted later it may be made retroactive to cover a part of 1950 corporation income.

The profits tax idea fathered powerful backing in the house, among both Democrats and Republicans.

Thirty-two house Republicans issued a statement declaring that they will oppose any adjournment of congress until it acts on such a tax.

"It is intolerable," they said, "to send American youth into battle or even to freeze wages and prices, without at the same time removing the excess profits resulting from war."

The battle today is not on whether there shall be such a levy, but whether it shall be made part of the present bill.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means committee said he is as strong for an excess profits tax as anybody, but he pleaded for time to study sound means of applying it before congress acts. President Truman has asked for an excess profits tax but has advised that congress consider this after the November election.

100 Attend Garden Club Meeting

The Hope Federation of Garden clubs ushered in its fall activities yesterday with a luncheon at Hotel Barlow, attended by 100 members of the nine local clubs.

The Rose Garden Club sponsored the event, and Mrs. H. O. Kyles, president of the club, presided over the meeting. Following the invocation by Mrs. W. C. Andrews, Mrs. Florence Wingfield, secretary of the federation, gave a report on the past year's accomplishments and also an outline of plans for activities of the coming season.

A program of musical selections was furnished by Mrs. James McLarty and Luther Holloman.

The large U-shaped table presented a most attractive appearance, holding a very beautiful and unusual group of nine arrangements, one from each garden club, representing nine months of the year. In the judging, first prize went to the Iris Garden Club for their lovely flower and fruit arrangement, a rich portrayal of the Thanksgiving month of November.

Honorable mention was given to the Gardenia club for the unusual combination of material used in their arrangement, consisting of red, white and blue flowers interspersed with red fire-crackers, depicting the month of July.

The showing of colored slides on the restoration of Williamsburg, Va., completed a most enjoyable occasion for the group meeting.

Minor Fires

Two fires last night were reported by the Hope Fire Department. A small house on Graham Street had a small fire resulting from a wood stove about 8:10 p. m. It caused little damage.

Shortly after at 8:40 p. m. the Firemen were called to 508 N. Laurel where some wiring in a house was afire. It too was put out before serious damage resulted.

Jolson in Japan to Sing for U. S. Troops

Tokyo, Sept. 14 —(P)—Al Jolson arrived by plane today at his own expense "to sing some songs" for GI's in Japan and Korea.

Jolson, a USO entertainer in World War II, was the first name actor to come here for appearances before American troops.

He brought along his own accompanist, song writer Harry Akst.

Tomorrow Jolson will visit wounded GI's in U. S. army hospitals in Tokyo and Yokohama. He will leave Saturday for air bases and other installations in south Japan. From there he will go to Korea for performances near the battle ones.

On his return from Korea, the radio and film star will visit hospitals at Fukuoka, Osaka and Kyoto.

Arriving on the same plane with Jolson were Gen. Carl A. Spaatz (retired), former chief of the U. S. air force and now a magazine writer, and Maj Gen. Raymond W. Bliss, surgeon general of the U. S. army.

Engineer Admits Seeing Stop Signal

Pittsburgh, Sept. 14 —(P)—The interstate commerce commission today weighed the possibility of punitive action against a 68-year-old engineer who testified he ran his passenger express through a stop signal shortly before it struck a stalled troop train.

The Pennsylvania railroad engineer, William E. Eller, told a joint inquiry yesterday that the crack "Spirit of St. Louis" passed a stop signal just before striking the troop train last Monday near Co-shocton, Ohio.

Eller also "guessed" his express train was running at about 50 miles per hour at the time of the crash in which 33 members of Pennsylvania's recently federalized 28th division were killed.

More than 50 other soldiers on the troop train were hurt but no one on the passenger express was injured.

B. W. Johnson, a road foreman of engines, testified the recorded tape taken from Eller's smashed diesel indicated the train was running about 70 miles an hour shortly before the mishap and about 50 miles an hour "immediately before the crash."

The inquiry was conducted jointly by the ICC, the railroad, the Ohio public utility commission and the army.

ICC Commissioner W. J. Patterson declared:

"When we get the record a report will be written and made public. If it turns out any law was violated that is administered by the commission, then we will take punitive action."

Colonel George W. Haley, representing the department of army operations of railroads, said he also will submit a report.

As the hearing ended, the army made ready to take home its soldier dead. Bodies of the 33 victims, all from the Wilkes-Barre (Pa.) area, were placed aboard a special train which left West Lafayette, Ind., early today.

Parole Given to Convicted Conspirator

Washington, Sept. 14 —(P)—Former Rep. Andrew Jackson May (D-Ky.), convicted of accepting a bribe and joining in a conspiracy in connection with World War Two munitions contracts, has been granted a parole.

George C. Killinger, chairman of the federal parole board, told reporters the 75 year old former lawmaker will be released Monday from the Ashland, Ky., federal correctional institution.

Killinger said May's age and poor health, plus "an outstanding institutional record" were major factors in the board's decision to free him.

May plans to return to law practice at his home in Prestonburg, Ky.

The board voted to grant the parole earlier in the week, but it was not announced until today in order to notify officials of the Ashland institution.

May, wartime chairman of the house military affairs committee, received a sentence of from eight to 24 months.

Burglars Enter Local Store

Delaney's Grocery Stores, downtown on Second Street, was broken and burgled, failing in an attempt to open the safe, finally settled for three cold drinks and a pair of glasses.

Investigating officers, Pedron and Willis said the knob was knocked off the safe. Entrance was gained through the skylight with the aid of a boxcar standing behind the building.

The skylight over Stephens Grocery Co. also was torn out but apparently was not entered. The break-in was discovered about 8:30 p. m. by Officer Pedron who was making his regular round.

Says Toehold in Korea Won't Get Any Smaller

Washington, Sept. 14 —(P)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, pointed today to the United Nations' corner of Korea and said: "It's as little as it's going to get. You can depend on that."

"From now on," he said, "we're going the other way."

The general made the remarks to reporters and photographers in front of a Korean warlocksmen before discussing the Korean situation with the senate committee on military and naval affairs.

Senators reported afterward he gave them an optimistic picture of the outlook at the moment.

One committee member, Senator Russell (D-Ga.), told reporters it is silly to let the idea build up among the American people and the rest of the world that just because the U. S. is a democracy it won't strike the first blow in the next war.

Russell was explaining why he commended Secretary of the Navy Matthews for having said in a Boston speech that "to have our intention to pay any price for the price of instituting a war to compel cooperation."

The state department jumped on Matthews for this talk, saying it was a prevent war talk.

House said the speech had not been cleared there.

But from Russell, Matthews got a kind word when he appeared before the senate committee last month. The senatorial congratulations came tonight yesterday with the publication of the hearings.

Expanding on the subject today, Russell said:

"To keep on saying to the American people and the rest of the world that we will wait until our land is devastated and our cities made uninhabitable for our dead is just plain foolish."

Families of Servicemen Have Sad Homecoming But They Carry the Usual Souvenirs

By LACHLAN MACDONALD
(Anchorage Alaska Times)
(For Hal Boyle)

Anchorage, Alaska —(P)—The finest and children of the nation's wives come home this way. Often late at night, the great planes of operation Raven stop briefly before the last leg of the long trip to the U. S. A.

The North Pacific run isn't a vacation arriving daily at Elmendorf air force base are not the laughing, prosperous international travelers of a few weeks ago. They are families uprooted by war.

Some are shaken by their experience, but there are no tears. Volunteers who meet the planes with food and toys for the children are quick to note the woman with a strained and detached look that sets them apart. They are the quiet widows of men who have died in the Korean hills. Reluctantly they give up their infants to volunteers who feed and care for them during the stop.

Some received first notification of their loss in Tokyo casualty lists: a few received suddenly terrible bundles of clothing. The health officers, the customs examination, all are a little unreal for the women who only 20 hours before boarded planes in Japan.

The reception program at Elmendorf does everything possible to comfort and care for the evacuees. First planes, after the Korean war started, were met by officers who found themselves unprepared to deal with tired mothers and fussy babies. Then volunteers from the officer's wives and NCO wives clubs took over. The fame of their welcome has spread to Tokyo.

The operation was named after the sombre Raven when it became apparent that dependents in Japan would have to return to stateside homes after husbands became casualties or as new troops required their quarters. But not all the returning dependents are bereaved by the war. Many are optimistic and it is their cheer that means much of the widows on the long Pacific flight.

At least half of the weary travelers stepping down the gangplank are children, often infants born in Asia. A few are old enough to remember comic books, which they snatch with joy, but others cling to their Japanese dolls, and highly polished sandals and beam wide-eyed at their first view of America.

Operation Raven is primarily a military air transport service operation. Care of evacuees at Elmendorf is in the hands of Lt. Col. Charles Reid.

But the evacuees aren't the big problem for the men of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine. Plane crews and personnel on rotation deluge his office with maps, firs and stunted pine trees. Most of them aren't the famous oriental dwarf trees, at all, the plant men report, but mountain plants dug up near the midge tree-line and passed off as the genuine article.

Traditional souvenirs, the trees must be deloused and cleaned before they can enter the U. S. The quarantine worries about Japanese beetles and other insects which haven't yet invaded America from the orient. The trees usually end up in an incinerator.

The Rose Garden Club sponsored the event, and Mrs. H. O. Kyles, president of the club, presided over the meeting. Following the invocation by Mrs. W. C. Andrews, Mrs. Florence Wingfield, secretary of the federation, gave a report on the past year's accomplishments and also an outline of plans for activities of the coming season.

Schoepfel's Aid Takes Up Challenge

Washington, Sept. 14 — (AP)—Frank T. Bow, chief aide to Senator Schoepfel (R-Kans.), adopted as his own today the senator's charges that Secretary of the Interior Chapman has a "personal alliance" with Communist Russia. He challenged Chapman to sue him.

Bow told the senate interior committee, which is investigating the accusations, that he intends to voice them publicly, where Chapman is at liberty to sue him.

Chapman has bitterly denied the charges which Schoepfel made in a senate speech. Chapman told the committee last week he dares the senator "or any other man" to make such charges at some forum where they would not enjoy congressional or other immunity from lawsuit.

"I accept that dare and challenge of the secretary," Bow declared in a prepared statement which he read to the committee.

"I shall repeat the allegations of Senator Schoepfel as my own, in a public and open forum. I shall advise the secretary of the time and place, and shall furnish him with a transcript of my remarks.

"I shall speak as a citizen of this country without immunity or the mantle of high public office."

Bow, a candidate for election to the house from the 16th Ohio congressional district, told reporters he actually has used some of the material quoted by the senator in a campaign speech in Wooster, O., a week ago.

Quick Passage of Arms Bill Predicted

Washington, Sept. 14 — (AP)—Senate leaders predicted speedy passage today of a bill providing an estimated $17,185,000,000 in emergency funds to build up America's military might and bolster other nations against Communist aggression.

"I think it will clear without any trouble," said Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), the majority leader.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), the minority leader, said he looked for little controversy.

Wherry is a member of the senate appropriations committee which unanimously approved the bill last night.

The measure includes an estimated $11,735,000,000 to step up America's military machine and $4,000,000,000 for the arming of friendly nations.

Duck Hunters Plan to Fight Commission

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 13 — (AP)—Duck hunters in five Mississippi flyway states plan a 14-state association to carry on their squabble with the U. S. fish and wildlife service.

Delegates to an "indignation meeting" here yesterday set up a skeleton organization to draw representatives of the states — from Minnesota to Louisiana along the Mississippi river — into a "Mississippi Valley Flyway association."

The sportsmen complain that the flyway hunting season and bag limit has been shortened by the federal service, while western flyways get a longer season and a heavier bag limit.

The delegation included representatives from Mississippi, Arkansas, Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee. The West Tennessee Sportsmen's association called the meeting.

McCarran Bill Almost Sure to Be Vetoed

Washington, Sept. 13—(AP)—A bill aimed at stifling Communist activities all along the home front headed today for a senate-house conference as the first step toward a probable veto by President Truman.

It received an overwhelming 70 to 7 vote of approval in the senate late yesterday after a day of hectic and often confused maneuvering that eventually welded two opposing measures into one.

Briefly the bill provides for: 1. The internment of dangerous Reds in time of war, invasion or insurrection.

2. Registration of Communist and Communist front organizations.

3. Barring Reds from government jobs and obtaining passports.

4. New legal curbs on sabotage and espionage.

5. New weapons to be used to exclude the deport aliens considered to be subversive.

6. Outlawing conspiracies to set up a "totalitarian dictatorship" in the United States.

Senator Kilgore (D-W.Va.), had introduced the internment plan as a substitute for the sweeping catch-all bill sponsored by Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) of the senate judiciary committee. As a substitute it was defeated 50 to 23.

Meanwhile Senate Democrats to Leader Lucas of Illinois grabbed the bill. When the voting was finally over, he had succeeded in nailing a somewhat modified version of the Kilgore plan onto the McCarran bill.

It was done by voice vote after the senate had (A) voted down, 45 to 29, Lucas' move to substitute the plan for the Communist registration section, and (B) rejected, 37 to 35, his first attempt to write the plan into the bill. This vote was later reconsidered and acceptance followed.

There were only two other major changes in the McCarran bill. One stripped from it a provision to set up a semi-independent office of passports and visas. This amendment, by Senator Connally (D-Tex.), was adopted 39 to 33.

The other, an amendment by Senator Ellender (D-La.), added a provision making it illegal to picket federal courts. It was adopted on a voice vote.

A top administration lieutenant, who asked that he not be identified by name, told reporters the White House already has the measure under study, but he did not know when a decision would be made.

He said, however, that the President would make a forthright stand one way or another.

West Powers Set for Red Demand

Lake Success, Sept. 14—(AP)—Western delegates prepared strategy today to counter an expected demand from Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky that Chinese Communist representatives be seated at next week's United Nations general assembly.

The Soviet foreign minister is expected to rise on a point of order as soon as the assembly convenes Tuesday to insist on its ousting the Chinese Nationalists and admitting Red delegates.

Philippine Delegate Carlos P. Romulo, who will be in the chair, declined to say whether he would give an immediate ruling or throw the question open to discussion.

If he ruled at once, one way or another, an immediate vote would be called to settle the question. An overwhelming majority of the 59-nation assembly would doubtless reject the Russian demand.

A long discussion, on the other hand, would start the assembly off on a tirade of harangues which could drag on interminably and delay consideration of vital items on its agenda.

Not only would it give Vishinsky an inevitable forum, but it would emphasize the split between the United States—which opposes seating Red China—and Britain which wants the Peiping government admitted.

Delegates look to the meetings now going on in New York among the British, French and American foreign ministers for a solution to this dilemma.

Although they do not expect complete reconciliation of the British and American points of

Two Indicted for 'Patent' Medicine Sales

Little Rock, Sept. 14—(AP)—Two men have been indicted by a federal grand jury here in connection with alleged sales of a "patent" medicine and false teeth.

U. S. Attorney James E. Gooch identified the two as E. L. Olds and Olds' nephew, Lawrence N. Robinson. He said they would appear today to post bonds of $10,000 each.

Olds, part owner of a drug store chain here, is a lieutenant commander in the naval reserve and in World War Two was the navy's representative in Arkansas state selective service headquarters.

Gooch said the two are accused of selling a product known as BeCal, which he said was advertised as "an amazing new discovery x x x for the cure and relief of arthritis and rheumatism."

BeCal was advertised over Mexican radio stations, as well as by mail, and many orders were received from southern and southwestern states. Postal Inspector W. R. Sanders said tests disclosed that BeCal's chief ingredient was aspirin.

BeCal resulted in indictments charging use of the mails to defraud.

Indictments charging illegal practice of dentistry were returned in connection with alleged sale of dental plates through the mail.

Gooch said the indictments alleged a total of 11 counts, each carrying on conviction a possible maximum fine of $1,000 and some providing for prison sentences of up to five years.

Wynne, Sept. 14—(AP)—For the second time in his life, 28-year-old Ray Marion Faulkner will have a jury consider his fate today: Innocent or guilty in the slaying of his mother-in-law.

Testimony in his trial wound up yesterday and the case goes to the jury in Circuit court today.

The question is whether the ex-marine and former football star was sane when he shot to death his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mackie Swait Weddington, at her home near Leveeview in 1948.

His defense has been temporary insanity. Yesterday the jury heard two defense psychiatrists testify he was insane at the time of the slaying. It heard two psychiatrists for the prosecution say he was sane.

Faulkner's wife testified she thought he "wasn't responsible."

view, they do hope that some procedural agreement will be reached to keep the dispute more or less in the family and off the assembly floor.

Lottery Ring Cracked in Florida

Miami, Fla., Sept. 14—(AP)—A dozen men were under arrest today in what the FBI described as an attempted $2,000,000 international lottery ring.

They were picked up in a series of quick raids throughout the country following a tip from Royal Canadian mounted police.

Edmund Mason, special agent in charge of the Miami FBI office, said the tip came when the Mounties picked up a taxi driver carrying lottery tickets across the Canadian-American border.

The FBI office at Buffalo, N. Y., traced the tickets to Miami, Mason said, and agents here traced them to the Franklin Press, a commercial printing concern.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who announced the arrests in Washington, said the men would be charged with conspiracy to violate the federal law against interstate transportation of lottery tickets. The maximum penalty is a $10,000 fine and five years in imprisonment.

Hoover said agents throughout the United States and authorities in Jamaica and Canada had worked on the case for six weeks. Mason identified world agent and contact man for the ring as Carl L. Bess, Sr., of Stuart, Fla. Bess paid the Franklin Press $18,000 to print $2,000,000 worth of tickets on Christmas handi-cap to be run at Kingston, Jamaica, on Dec. 26, 1950, Mason said.

Bess, formerly of Chicago, was arrested at Stuart where he owns the Stuart hotel a r o a d e and a hardware store. He waived preliminary hearing and was ordered held for a federal grand jury in $10,000 bond.

Monroe Takes Hot Springs in Cotton Playoff

The Associated Press
Monroe postponed a decision on whether to play a second finalist in the Cotton States playoff by downing Hot Springs, 4-0, last night.

That made the series stand three to two in Hot Springs' favor, and it marked a second win for Monroe pitcher Jim Burns, who gave up only two singles.

Burns was the pitcher when Monroe won the opening game of the four of seven series.

Natchez had clinched a place in the finals by taking four games from Pine Bluff.

If Hot Springs had won last night, the Bathers would have qualified as Natchez' opponent.

But with the Sports' win, the series locale switches from Hot Springs to Monroe, where the two teams, beginning tonight, will play until they settle the matter.

Monroe may have lost Al Mazur, its manager-second baseman, for remainder of the series last night. Mazur suffered a twisted knee in a play at second base as Bather Bob Hoelt slid into the bag for a successful steal. Hoelt did what none of his teammates was able to do—got to second.

two eleven tangle here Friday night at 8 o'clock in the season opener.

According to weights Hope's team weighs in at 169 pounds to 158 for the visitors. The Hope line 176 to 162 for the Leopards and Hope backs 158 to 150. So the difference is in the lines where Hope has three that go past 150 pounds.

Both teams have been working hard for the first game and De-Queen is hopeful that this is their year. Two years straight the Cats have walloped the Leopards and both times the game was doped to be a tossup.

Bobby Ellen has a veteran team this year — made up of players that were in the playoff last year in Class A. Actually he only lost one man that was hard to replace — Billy Pickens, an all-state back.

So with experience and the law of average on their side the Leopards are out to scalp the Bobcats and this could be their year.

The FORMER MISS FREY

By Edwin Rutt
Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: The former Eddie Frey, whose marriage to former Battling Tom Flood was not long ago, has been placed under the charge of Frey & Company, a successful advertising agency. Dan Reagan, one of the firm's executives, has just told Edie that two accounts are shaky. One of them, the Morn-Glo account, is the best one the agency has.

"WE'VE got to find out exactly what's in Northcott's mind," Edie said. Her eyes, slightly hooded, fastened on Reagan. "Now tell me something about yourself."

Reagan jerked up his head in surprise. He laughed again, the laugh that reminded Edie vaguely of the roar of a bull. "Me? There isn't much to tell. I'm from the wrong side of the tracks. Self-educated at night school and so on.
Your father took me on as a kid, 15 years ago, and he's helped me along. I owe him a lot and I'm not forgetting it. That's all, except that I'm ambitious. A guy like me, with no push background, has to be or he doesn't march in the parade."

"And you still want to stick by the ship?"

Reagan's eyes were bright blue and bold. "More than ever."

Again Edie felt the aura of power that seemed to emanate from Reagan. Undoubtedly, she thought, he would be a good man to have on one's side.

"That's that, then, for the present," she said, getting to her feet.
"We'll talk again, Mr. Reagan.
Very soon. And maybe, between us, we'll find some way to lick
Mr. Northcott."

PETER FLOOD's reply to Edie's letter was prompt, and duly sympathetic. He objected, however, to coming to New York at this time and gave a valid reason for his objection. The play was progressing smoothly. He had
